Beware of Ointments for Catarrh that contain Mercury, as mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering it through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co. Testimonials free. Sold by druggists. Price, 75c per bottle. Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.—Adv.

Many persons suffer with every symptom of flat-foot when, upon ordinary examination of the foot, the appearance of the foot is normal. A person having this trouble usually complains of pains and aches in the feet, tiring after short walks, and a desire to rest the toes and a general burning sensation, also pains in the back and spine and nervousness are frequently found to be caused by this condition. In the later stages, the muscles have become so weakened and relaxed that the weight of the body crushes down the arch structure. Come in and let me examine your feet. I have arches and other orthopedic appliances designed by Dr. Scholl, and endorsed by medical authorities.

Scout News.

Last Saturday evening the Boy Scout Minstrels gave their show at the Essex County Isolation Hospital, Belleville, before an audience of about 100 patients and nurses. Applause after applause was given the boys for the efficient way in which they rendered the solos, the jokes of the end and the songs, all enjoyed and appreciated. After the change of costumes and a good wash-up, all were invited into the administration building where refreshments were served. The boys all agreed of having a good time, treated very courteously and were entirely repaid for the good turn they rendered. After a farewell song, the boys were conveyed home in a stage.

Fifteen boys from Troop 8 passed the tenderfoot and second-class tests during the last week, took the oath and received their badges before the council last Monday evening. Troop 8 is now equipped with the official scout staff and the instruction of drills will begin at once. There are a great many uses for the staff when out hiking or camping, such as measuring distances, jumping ditches, scaling walls, bridge building, making splints, tripping for cooking, wading a stream, making improvised stretchers, making rafts and numerous other things.

Lieutenant General Sir Robert S. Baden-Powell was greatly pleased with the reception which he received on his arrival in this country on January 31. He has expressed his appreciation in a letter which he wrote to Colin H. Livingston, President of the Boy Scouts of America. In that letter he says:

"I desire to thank the National Council of the Boy Scouts of America for their kind and hearty welcome which you have been good enough to express in their behalf, and I wish in return to say how greatly honored I feel by their invitation to me to come and inspect the progress of the movement in the United States."

At the meeting of the National Council of the Boy Scouts of America

it was decided to establish an official magazine in the interest of the organization. W. D. Boyce, of Chicago, vice-president of the Boy Scouts of America offered to finance a publication for three years.

Business men of Dallas, Texas, have become convinced of the value of the Boy Scout movement. They have guaranteed a fund of between two and three thousand dollars a year to pay the expenses of an executive secretary or somebody to take charge of the work in Dallas. From their study of the activities they felt sure that greater good will be accomplished by hiring men to supervise the play of the boys.

At the annual meeting of the National Council of the Boy Scouts of America, President William H. Taft again was elected honorary president of the Boy Scouts of America. Colonel Theodore Roosevelt was elected honorary vice president. Colin H. Livingston was chosen president.

The members of the Fourth Camden troop of Boy Scouts of New Jersey, under Scoutmaster A. A. Rutherford, are devoting much of their time to engineering.

The members of Troop No. 16 of the Boy Scouts of America in Baltimore, Maryland, under John Henry Skeen, scoutmaster, have two sets of wireless apparatus equipment. They have set them up and are busy learning the code so that they can communicate with one another.

Boy Scouts of America in Belleville, Pittsburgh, recently restored a pony that was stolen from J. W. Vickerman.

The Governor's Position.

The Governor of New Jersey has not declared himself in explicit words in favor of the National Reserve Association plan of the National Monetary Commission as the best solution of our banking problems, but he has said in effect that if business men don't want that plan, they should offer a better. Governor Wilson knows that the country must have reform in banking, or remain at the mercy of a few money kings. So far he seems to believe that the National Reserve Association plan is the best suggested.

In Satisfactory Shape.

The Morris Canal bill, says the Newark Call, has now been amended so that Newark will have the right to acquire the canal bed within its borders, while the rights of Lake Hopatcong owners are well protected, it is understood. The amended measure has the earnest support of the State's special counsel and Newark's city representatives no longer object to it. The duty of the Legislature to enact the bill, under all the circumstances, would now appear to be beyond reasonable question. As we have said heretofore, the whole plan of increasing the street railroad facilities in Newark and its suburbs depends upon the future use of the canal. If it can be made available for subway uses it will be practicable to develop numerous connections, East, West, North and South, and the whole process will be simple and convenient. If the canal cannot be used then totally different measures must be taken, involving larger expenditures and much more complicated arrangements. What we need, above all things, is a decision that can be regarded as final. Something must be done, and as soon as the fate of the canal is settled we can get to work, but not until then. This is the main reason why we urge a settlement at once. The people are patient, but they must have better street-car facilities before long.

National Waterways.

The Rivers and Harbors Committee of the House after patient and painstaking investigation, with due consideration given to all meritorious waterway projects, has reported a bill carrying twenty-five millions in round numbers. While there will be great disappointment in some sections of the country over the failure of the committee to give consideration to projects having local bearing, the bill will be generally acceptable, as it carries out the principle urged upon the Federal Congress, for the past ten years, by the National Rivers and Harbors Committee, that there should be an annual river and harbor bill and that the estimates of the army engineers should be made with the yearly feature in view. Of course there will be general regret that the amount carried by the bill is not larger, but with the Democratic pledged to economy and retrenchment wherever possible, the bill is as large as could have been expected. The Senate will probably add another five millions to the measure, bringing the amount carried by the bill to thirty millions or thereabouts.

Card Party.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Kaas entertained the Willard Avenue Five Hundred Club on Washington's Birthday. The ladies were presented with Continental hats and corsage bouquets of white sweet peas and the gentlemen wore cherries. After the game a supper was served, the table being decorated very prettily in red and white, to suit the occasion. Hatchets were given as favors and the evening ended pleasantly, with music and dancing.
